KEYTESVILLE, MISSOURI.

Probate court sits next Monday.

Ben Anderson, of near Rymond, has a new barn.

C. B. Crawley was in Salisbury Tuesday on professional business.

Call on Geo. M. Dewey & Co. for your cutlery. They keep the best.

Thanksgiving falls on November 26th this year. Put up that turkey.

For Applegate & Sons' celebrated Rose Bud whiskey call on D. B. Kellogg.

After all there may be something in a name when it comes to a Justice's court.

Don Hayes, of Forest Green, made a business trip to the Capital Tuesday.

Mrs. J. A. Egan is visiting her cousin, Mrs. H. K. West, of Marcelline, this week.

For all kinds of hardware go to Geo. M. Dewey & Co. They have a fine stock.

Miss Anna M. Davis, of Brunswick, is with her sister, Mrs. A. F. Tooley, this week.

When you want nails remember that Geo. M. Dewey & Co. have them in abundance.

G. B. Oldham, of Salisbury, was shaking hands with his many friends here Sunday.

If in style you would be seen, Buy your clothes of Rosenstein.

Call on G. M. Dewey & Co., and see their line of cooking stoves which are the best on the market.

John Broadus, of Montana, is visiting his parents, near Keytesville, after an absence of several years.

If you want good, pure, sour-mash whiskey either by the drink or gallon—try that made by D. B. Kellogg.

Mrs. H. H. Garth left yesterday morning for a visit to relatives and old friends in Columbia and Rochester.

The doctrine of "like cures like" is illustrated by the fact that when people like, the best thing they can do is to retire.

Geo. M. Dewey & Co. make their own tinware, and persons purchasing from them can be sure of getting the best.

When you want a good 5-cent smoke go to Agee & Bro. and ask for the American Exposition cigar. They are dandies.

The Keytesville Mercantile company have two gold watches to give away and want everybody to call and see them.

C. A. Chapman's new house is a beauty, and is a credit to Messrs. Allen & Waugh, of Northville, the architects who built it.

Salisbury has contracted for her electric light plant, which is to cost $7,500. The contract for face veils has not yet been let.

The News says Miami could furnish a car load of subjects for the Kewley Institute at Dwight, Ill. And yet Miami has no saloons.

Wilson Dodge, the efficient foreman of the Salisbury Democrat, will move with his wife to Salisbury next week and set up to house-keeping.

Stock sold tolerably low at D. G. Willett's, near Charleville, last Saturday, butcorn brought a good price, selling at $1.01 1/2 a barrel in the field.

Several nutting parties have been out during the past week, but we think they have failed, so far, to bring in any nuts, but all report a good time.

A. F. Tooley, J. C. Wallace and J. J. Moore were at the "cut-off" fishing Friday. They report a pleasant time, but they haven't heard of their catching any fish.

Kirby Venable and family, of near Dalton, have moved into the Redman & Taylor cottage in the new addition, and are now well-fledged citizens of Keytesville.

The grand jury brought in a fine Irish potato and a large sweet potato from the poor farm on Wednesday last week, which they presented to Judge Burgess.

Miss Blanche Hayes, of the Forks of Chariton, returned last Saturday from a delightful visit of some three or four months to her aunt, Mrs. Horowitz, of Denver, Colorado.

Messrs. Smith & Mullins, attorneys for the plaintiffs in the Richard Young bill case, were refused a new trial by Judge Burgess, and have taken an appeal to the supreme court.

Arrangements have been made for a new room in our public school and a partition will be run in Prof. Coleman's room so as to be a teacher can be employed by the school board.

W. C. Gaston has purchased six lots of John, Thiers and J. A. C. Phillips, south of the jail, for $750, and will build two or three new dwelling houses to rent. Our boom continues.

Prof. J. P. Coleman and Miss Mollie Grinstead took the pupils of their respective rooms out nutting Saturday. They had several bushels of fun, but gathered only one nut.

The Cornucopia is now running a bona fide circulation of 1,444 subscribers with our list still growing every week. We have no further need of a circulation list, and have loaned ours out.

E. B. Kellogg, of Sumner, attended the marriage of Miss May, to B. D. Kribben, of St. Louis, at the home of the bride's parents, in this city, on Wednesday evening of last week.

Messrs. Wm. McCampbell and James Riddell, two leading stockmen of Yellow Creek township, have made arrangements to feed cattle this winter on the farm of Judge J. B. Hyde, near Dalton, west of Keytesville.

Judge J. B. Hyde has sold 1,000 barrels of corn at $1.50 a barrel, delivered, to Messrs. Campbell & Riddell, who will make a large feed of cattle and hogs on the judge's farm, near Dalton, this fall and winter.

Sympathy is one thing, a sworn duty to uphold the law is another. Some men's sympathy is a towering mountain, while their regard for their oath as an officer hardly assumes the proportions of a mole hill.

If the negro women, who steal from white people to support negro babies, are to go unpunished, then there is nothing left for the pale ones except to invest in a few raw hides and use them as occasions may demand.

We have just received a large stock of all kinds of glassware, which we have put upon the market at such low prices that glassware will move rapidly at our store.

AGEE & BRO.

Mrs. J. D. Blanton and three children returned to their home, at Lexington, Mo., Tuesday afternoon after a two weeks' visit to Mrs. B.'s parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Miller, and other Keytesville relatives and friends.

We have just received a large stock of all kinds of glassware, which we have put upon the market at such low prices that glassware will move rapidly at our store.

AGEE & BRO.

Our old friend and neighbor, J. M. Hamilton, is adding to the convenience of his surroundings by erecting a commodious barn and making other improvements on his fine farm, three and a half miles south of Salisbury.

The line of ladies' wraps at Rosenstein's, Brunswick, is magnificent beyond description. Don't fail to see it.

Mrs. Dr. Fowler returned Friday from Kansas City, whither she had gone to attend the obsequies of her niece, Miss Vera Wright. Mrs. Fowler was accompanied home by Miss Belle Martin, of Kahoka, Mo., who is now her guest.

Within the range of punishment prescribed by law a court's sympathies should find its bounds; and when guilt is established beyond a question of doubt, it is an outrage upon justice that a verdict of acquittal should be found.

Rev. Dr. Cowan, of Fulton, preached to a well-attended congregation last Sunday morning and evening, at the Presbyterian church. Dr. Cowan is quite an impressive speaker and is always welcomed by large congregations in Keytesville.

If you are in arrears on your subscription to the Courier, and don't want to receive a statement and due for your dues, then call in and pay your subscription. Our quarterly subscription statements will be sent out some time this month.

J. A. C. Phillips has traded his livery stable, livery business and residence property in Keytesville to Thos. Oldham for the latter's 80-acre farm, four miles north of town. Mr. Oldham took charge last Thursday, and is now in full control of the business.

The 2-month-old child of Isaac Nix, of the Hillsboro school, five miles south of town, was buried Friday at Ashby Chapel cemetery by the side of its mother, who died just a week before. Surely the husband and father's cup of sorrow is full to overflowing.

The Northeast Missouri Press association was in session at Moberly on Thursday and Friday last week. The affair was brought to a close on Friday night with a grand banquet, which was tendered the editors at the elegant new Wabash eating house.

Dr. J. H. Foy, the scholarly president of Salisbury academy, preached an excellent sermon at the Methodist church, in Keytesville, Sunday morning. His subject was "The Progressive Character of Sin," which he handled in a most impressive manner.

Dr. Redmon put on a delivery wagon Monday morning for the morning for the accommodation and convenience of our merchants. The doctor saw to it that a delivery wagon would "supply a long felt want," hence supplied it with the enterprising citizen he promises to make.

Ladies, don't fail to see that superb line of dress goods at Rosenstein's, Brunswick. It is positively grand, and must be seen to be appreciated.

One of the most enjoyable occasions of the season was a hall concert given to "our crowd," by the young ladies, at the residence of Mr. A. Moore. As it was Saturday night the merry-makers were obliged to leave at 12 o'clock, m., much against their will.

Dr. Redmon was called to Glasgow late Thursday afternoon of last week, by a telegram, to treat a horse suffering with lockjaw. The animal belonged to W. J. Nivert, of that place. Successful treatment was out of the question, and Mr. Nivert's steed died the next day.

The complaint paid by the grand jury to O. B. Anderson, sheriff, and M. T. Davenport, superintendent of the poor farm, is nothing more than a deserved recognition of the trustworthiness and efficiency of two good officers. They are both the right men in the right place.

Oliver Scott, one of the CORNICK'S Brunswick friends, and a well-known caterer to the inner man, in that city, has just added to the attractiveness of his restaurant building by putting in a new and neat front porch. Oliver is bound to keep in front of the procession in his line of business.

Mr. R. A. Elliott, living near town, who has just returned from a visit to his son, Mr. Elliott, at Kansas, called on the Brunswick Thursday and ordered the paper sent to his home. He wants the news of Chariton county—Brunswick.

If Mr. Elliott wants the news of the county he should have subscribed for the Courier.

C. B. Oldham has sold a half interest in the Salisbury Democrat to our worthy young friend, Clarence Hyde, a son of President Justice Hyde, of the county court. The Courier welcomes Clarence to the journalistic news, and trusts that he may find smooth sailing, and become a great and even illustrious journalist.

Remember that we always keep abreast of the times with all kinds of plain and fancy groceries and grocers' notions. We will sell you as much groceries for $1 as anyone, and we will take all kinds of country produce at the highest market prices in exchange for any goods we carry.

Rosenstein, of Brunswick, has a larger stock of dry goods, clothing, ladies' and gents' furnishings, boots and shoes, etc., than ever before, and is selling cheaper than ever before.

J. W. Lewis, Jr., who has been in our community for the last year, has been sent by the government to Lone Jack, Mo., as gauger in a distillery, at that place. Mr. Lewis is a pleasant, promising young man, and we are sorry to lose him from our midst, but not so sorry, perhaps, as some of Keytesville's associates.

Jas. Laughlin, the popular and efficient train master of the Wabash, and his spouse celebrated their wedding—the 5th anniversary of their marriage—at their home, in Brunswick, on Tuesday last week. The occasion was attended by relatives, representing four generations, and a few intimate friends, and it is said to have been a most pleasant and enjoyable affair.

Jefferson Morrow, Macon county's first sheriff, attended the sheriff's land sales, in Keytesville, on Thursday last week. Mr. Morrow was one of the early settlers of Missouri, who, by a strong will and hard work, has made Missouri one of the best states in the union, and will have a rich inheritance to posterity in this grand old commonwealth. But how few of them will know or realize the hardships and deprivations such men as "Uncle Jeff" Morrow have endured to leave the legacy now enjoyed by Missourians. All honor to such men as "Uncle Jeff" Morrow.

Mrs. R. D. Edwards and daughter, Miss Grace, of this city, were the guests of Mrs. A. T. Kennedy and daughter, Miss Alice, of Salisbury, Saturday and Sunday, and were among the attendants of the reception at the Salisbury academy Saturday night.

A. M. Dumay, the genial cashier of the First National bank, at Brunswick, had a birthday anniversary on Thursday last week, and was surprised that evening by his good wife, who invited in a few friends and served a toothsome and elaborate oyster supper in honor of Mr. Dumay's having reached his 30th mile post. The greetings and good wishes of his friends, his charming life partner and the nutritious oysters and condiments gave him a good reason to wish for another year, and he hopes to reach in about another year, and again be stuffed with oysters, and gladdened by the good hail of his friends.

Keytesville had a distinguished arrival Tuesday afternoon in the person of ex-Gov. C. H. Hardin, of Mexico, Audrain county, who came up on business. While here the ex-governor effected, through O. F. Smith, of this place, the sale of a fractional part of acres of land, just in the suburbs of Keytesville, lying northeast of Dr. Holland's residence. The tract contains thirty-six acres, for $2,000, or a little more than $55 an acre. It could not now be bought from its present owner at $75 an acre. Mr. Carey will build a nice residence on the premises next spring, and will shortly move, with his family, to Keytesville and will occupy the old D. H. Hancock property, now owned by Wm. E. Hill, in the north part of town, until his new domicile is completed.

An adjourned term of the Grand county circuit court convened, at Trenton, on Monday last week, at which a motion for a new trial in the case of Jos. A. Howell, the murderer of Mrs. Minnie Hall and her four children, in Linn county, was called up and argued by Mullins, Harber and Knight for the defense, and by Breunlich and Bigler on the part of the state. The new trial was asked for on account of errors committed by the court in giving and refusing instructions, and for misconduct on the part of some of the jurors. The motion was overruled by Judge Goodman, and the defendant was sentenced to hang December 18th, but a stay of execution was given to allow the defense to appeal to the supreme court. They were given until the 5th of February, 1892, to prepare their bill of exceptions to that court. Howell was almost overcome by the impressive manner of the court in passing the death sentence.

Bridge Commissioner Wires informs us that he has superintended the building of some thirty bridges in this county during the past twelve months, ranging in price from $100 to $1,600, making a grand total sum of $8,500. He now has in process of construction a new bridge across Salt creek, west of Brunswick, and another across Prairie creek, east of Prairie Chapel. The court made an appropriation of $2,000 Monday for the purpose of building a bridge across the Chariton, just east of Jos. Hayward's farm, six miles south of Keytesville. The bridge tax of this county is $10 on each of the $100 valuation, and Mr. Wires thinks that the need for new bridges and repairs to old ones demand that the amount of the present tax for bridge purposes should be doubled. Iron bridges are, of course, the best and cheapest in the end, but the county has been pinched for bridge funds and has not had built many iron bridges heretofore as it otherwise would have done.

Mrs. A. Freeman and Wm. Osterman have bought the Brown house, at Brunswick, one of the best and most popular county hotel-keepers in Central Missouri, of which Mrs. S. Maury has been the hospitable proprietress for a dozen years or more. The hotel building, furniture and fixtures are included in the purchase, with the exception of the furniture in Mrs. Maury's room, the consideration being $3,300. Mrs. Maury will make her home in Columbia, Mo., after a brief sojourn at Excelsior Springs. Mr. A. M. Day and Mrs. Maury's son, and his wife, who have been assisting Mrs. Maury run the hotel for the past eighteen months or two years, will make their home near Ansonia, Montana, where Mr. Day will engage in the poultry and dairy business. The Brown house has fallen into good hands, and will doubtless continue to be one of the best places for the accommodation, in first-class style, as the traveling public requires.

Dr. J. O. Gilliam, of Berwyn, I. T., in company with S. W. Garnett, of near town, was an agreeable caller at our office last Saturday. The doctor is a son of "Uncle Jim" Gilliam, three miles west of Keytesville, and has been a resident of Indian Territory for the past sixteen years and is now the owner of a 7,000-acre tract of fine farming lands in Chickasaw nation, adjacent to Berwyn. The principal products of the soil are cotton and corn. The population is about nine-tenths white and one-tenth Indians. Dr. Gilliam, in addition to his landed estate, enjoys a lucrative practice as a "medicine man" among the Indians and "pale faces" of that country. The doctor was first married in Chariton county, but after losing his wife, who bore him three children, his second marriage was to an Indian woman, whom he lost last February. Of his second marriage eight children were born. Of this number there are triplets, two boys and a girl, and one pair of twins. The triplets are 7 years old and are attending school. The twins are 10 months old. All eleven of the children are living. The doctor says that when he comes up next fall he intends bringing the triplets with him.

Married.

At Rothville, Thursday, October 29th, by Rev. J. D. Mendenhall, Mr. S. T. Venable and Miss Anna Duncan.

At the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. P. M. Sears, near Prairie Hill, on Thursday, Oct. 29th, Mr. Wm. Cox and Miss Bettie Davidson.

At the court-house, in this city, Saturday, Oct. 31st, Mr. Chas. H. Ellis and Miss Rosa Reese, both of Marcelline, Judge H. C. Minter doing the officiating in his judicial peace and impressive manner.

FOX-CALLAHAN.

At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Callahan, four miles south-east of Westville, on Wednesday evening, October 28th, Mr. Francis A. Fox and Miss Nora Callahan, Rev. R. Stith, of the M. E. church, South, officiating. The attendants were Charles Akers and Miss Rebecca Fox.

At 7 o'clock the bridal party, led by the attendants, marched into the parlor where the minister, in a short and pleasing ceremony made them.

Two souls with but a single thought, Two hearts that beat as one.

The bride was elegantly attired in white henrietta, trimmed with white lace and ribbon. The groom wore a neat Prince Albert suit. After the ceremony and the usual flow of congratulations the company repaired to the dining room, where a beautiful supper was served to about fifty invited guests.

The beauty of the bride is proverbial, which, coupled with her accomplishments and many graces, has made her a favorite in the society in which she moved, while the gentlemanly bearing and sterling qualities of the groom have rendered him no less popular among his associates.

We extend congratulations to the worthy couple, and wish for them a happy and prosperous journey down the stream of life.

The following is a list of the presents received:

Clock, Mr. Jno. Callahan, father of the bride.

Set sauce dishes, Miss Addie Ellis.

Lamp, Mrs. Jno. Callahan, mother of bride.

Water set, Willie Ellis and Jay Brown.

Pair lace curtains, Robt. and Cora Long.

These papers will be discussed by the teachers present.

CHARITON COUNTY MERCHANTS.

HOW MANY THERE ARE, THE STOCKS THEY CARRY AND THE AMOUNT OF TAXES THEY PAY.

From County Treasurer Tooley's office we gather the following information about Chariton county merchants:

There are 197 merchants in this county, of which Salisbury has 44, Triplett 23, Dalton 6, Brunswick 39, Keytesville 25, Mendon 10, Sumner 12, Rothville 7, Prairie Hill 8, Muske Fork 5, Forest Green 3, Shanondale 4, Indian Grove 3, Berwynville 3, Wm. in addition to the above there is one merchant at each of the following post-offices: Charleville, Westville, Guthrie Mills, Namah, Hamden, Mike, Newcomer, Lagodon, Padgett, Snyder, Snapp, Hess and Cunningham. Besides this there are two merchants, one in Keytesville and the other in Missouri township, where there is no post-office.

The largest stock of goods in the county, as shown from the merchants' statements to county Treasurer Tooley, is at Keytesville, and the next largest at Brunswick. The smallest stock is at Salisbury, but two firms at Brunswick and one at Salisbury "tie" for the next smallest.

The total amount of valuation of all the mercantile stocks in the county is $175,196.39, of which the county receives $2,430.41 and the state $500.47 taxes annually.

THE GRAND JURY VISITS THE JAIL AND POOR FARM.

Their Report.

To the Circuit Court of Chariton County, Mo.—

We, the grand jury, serving at the October term, 1891, of this court, in compliance with the law and in obedience to the charge of court, beg to report that we, as a body, visited the county jail and poor farm of said county.

We find the jail in good condition, the prisoners being well treated and properly cared for, and we also report that, in our opinion, the condition of the poor farm could not well be better than we have found it. We take especial pride and pleasure in saying that the inmates of the poor farm are kindly and humanely treated and well supplied with clothing and food, and the buildings are kept clean and in good repair.

We especially endorse and commend the present superintendent of the poor farm and the present sheriff of Chariton county for their faithful discharge of duty.

Respectfully submitted this 28th day of October, 1891.

R. T. MOREHEAD, Foreman.

A Brilliant Trio.

The recent term of the Chariton circuit court demonstrated to the satisfaction of those observing the proceedings of that tribunal that the younger members of the Chariton county bar have taken front rank in the legal business of this county.

It was apparent at the very commencement of the term that T. S. Dines, of Brunswick, and W. W. Rucker and C. B. Crawley, of Keytesville, were the leading legal lights in the trial of every important case.

Such high rank is rarely attained by young men, and especially at a bar distinguished for the ability and learning of its members.

We, of course, mean no disparagement to the older members of the Chariton county bar, when we characterize the young men mentioned as leaders in their profession, for we believe they would achieve the same distinction at any bar in this state, or any other state, where talent and legal lore are recognized as they should be.

The success of this brilliant young trio is very gratifying to their friends, for their ability may well be pointed to with pride by every citizen of Chariton county.

Lost, Strayed, Stolen or Ran Away.

CLOTHING.

Here is a bargain that lays all opposition in the shade, from eastern bankrupt sale, 112 all-wool men's suits, frocks and sacks. None of these suits cost to manufacture less than $12 to $15! Mind, they are heavy fall and winter suits, and warranted all wool; they go at the low price of $5.

From the same source—117 men's coats, consisting of sacks, frocks and Prince Alberts, warranted strictly all wool, and not one among them that cost less than $7 to $12; all of them will go at the remarkable low price of $2.50.

Besides this great bargain lot of Clothing, we have received $10,000 worth of men's and boy's clothing, goods that are equal to any tailor-made to order suits, consisting of sacks, frocks, cutaways and Prince Albert suits. To commence with, we will sell you men's heavy Cashmere suits at $2.75 and $3.

Boys' heavy Cashmere suits at $1.50.

1,500 men's, boys' and children's overcoats, consisting of fine dress overcoats in Worsters, Meltons, Beavers and Kerseys, trimmed in fur, astrachan and plush.

Men's overcoats, selling everywhere at $3.50, our price this fall is $1.50.

Men's overcoats, worth $10, our price $5.

Men's overcoats worth $15, our price $7.50.

You can save at least $3 to $5 on every coat you buy from us; no house in this country can show you such a large stock.

DRY GOODS.

Every customer buying goods to the amount of $10 will be presented with half dozen triple-plated Rogers tea spoons. Every customer buying $20 worth of goods will be presented with half dozen triple-plated Rogers knives and forks. We pay all hotel bills for customers coming from a
